

* Rs485 dinamic library * Byte (Byte Array) based for easy to use. * Bindings for any platform. * Supports all versions of RS232, RS485, RS422 and RS-232-C. * Supports all serial drivers, for example: Win, Visual C, Async, ... * Support all operating systems, for example: Windows, Linux, Android, ... * Easy to use. Rs485 Dinamic Library is only Rs232-based, and using a RS485 transceiver can be much easier, faster and cheaper than using a real RS485 protocol. Rs485 Dinamic Library can be useful in: * Addresses a lot of RS232 issues and problems. * A much easier and simpler way to work with the RS232 port. * Improves your development process. For more information about usage of Rs485 Dinamic Library please see: * * * Rs485 Dinamic Library was created as an accessible and simple Rs232-based library. The library enables you to use any serial port found on your computer as a RS485 port. Rs485 Dinamic Library is a handy and easy-to-use library that can be used to improve your development process. #### What's New in the Rs485 Dinamic Library?

- 6 ISA/PCI/VESA/USB/RS232/RS485 ports using the same code base. - A range of 4 address signals with maximum of 64 addresses - 24 bit parallel asynchronous data transmission - 24 bit and 36 bit synchronous clock signals - Specification compliant with TI, NXP, Infineon, Philips etc - Optimal performance at low transmission rates - Part of the Dinamic Libraries (www.dynamiclibraries.de) Description Users can create user libraries (default libraries for the whole system), specify the start address, and configure the address range. You can create libraries at run-time using the Create New Library and Load User Library dialog boxes. Each library can have up to 254 enabled modules and can be used from an application using the available RS232, RS485, USB, or ISA ports. Serial Ports Available The library can be installed as follows: The computer is restarted and the required ISA/PCI/VESA or RS232/RS485 ports are found. Configuration is allowed to be saved and the port is assigned a library name that can be used from within the application. The library can be used from a command-line utility (using the run-time library) and the user-specific libraries can be loaded. Compatibility The Dinamic Libraries are already installed with most operating systems (no installation required). Please refer to the following list: Your computer is restarted and required ISA or RS232/RS485 ports are found. The library can be used with the settings of address and clock configuration saved in the serial port using the run-time library. The user-specific library can be loaded and run in the background. Modules The library supports the following modules: PIXI (RS232) Modules: RS232 Module parameters: p_addr_low, p_addr_high, p_clk_fract, p_clk_high, p_init_cycle: all of these modules are required and must have a value. Note: This module supports the following additional parameters: p_parity, p_tx_dly, p_tx_parity This module is required and must have a value. Parameters
