In the game Winter's Symphonies: "I see a new age coming around...The age where people can get their own thing going on. I can feel the change. It's really all happening. Don't you agree? I'm sure you do...I should leave you with this one thought: I want to be a part of your future. I want to be a part of you." "Why you?" - Sophie's thoughts

Sophie has always yearned to find her purpose in life. She believes she will find it, especially now that she is back in her hometown, where she spent the majority of her childhood. But is she seeing right? Is she going about things all wrong? Has she already found her purpose? When she gets back from work, she finds her husband in bed with another woman. After he reveals that he isn't happy with their marriage, she spends the night remembering a fateful kiss she shared with him in high school. In the morning, when the snow falls, Sophie makes a decision: she is no longer going to chase after a childhood dream. But, in the desolate city under a seasonally covered sky, will her decision be the one to ensure her future. There's no doubt about it: you're a good candidate for this job. Your abilities are incredibly strong, your strength is incredible, and you've proven yourself to have a knack for getting to the bottom of things. You've already proved yourself by taking on various high profile cases such as the Morgan-Ross affair and the tragic disappearance of the actress. On top of that, you've also found a formula that helps you determine whether a person is guilty or not using your unique gifts. This time, you'll have to use them not only on criminals but also on normal people who seem like the victims. The suspects will cross paths with you from both the past and the present. Just how will you be able to continue to solve this case? The site of the case: 1: Mrs. Ikenaga The victim, Hinata's mother, ran a tea stand.

You may already have the Caltrain Sim World® 2 engine, or you may have just been waiting for the final add-on. Here's your chance to add the Caltrain MP36PH-3C 'Baby Bullet' (1:160) loco to your railroad! The Caltrain Materail/Passenger train fleet includes the Caltrain MP36PH-3C 'Baby Bullet' diesel-electric multiple unit (DMU), which has been in service since the mid-1980s. This unit is available in several liveries for pennant numbers from 410 to 469. The Baby Bullet rarely sees service on passenger trains, but is still used on intercity freight, and occasionally used on work trains such as maintenance of way. PSA-SI PSA-SI Grand Prix practice sessions take place every year on the streets of California between July 1 and October 15. The $70 million track is 1.5 miles long and wrapped around Angels Stadium in downtown Los Angeles. More than 50,000 spectators can watch the pre-season practice. The 2009 race was held on September 15th, the 2010 race on October 6th and the 2011 event will be on October 27th. Ca. 70,000 tracksman at La Balsa track The track at La Balsa is the only racetrack in the world that is covered in every one of its turns. Building the track required the work of 14,682 professionals; 94% of them use only wooden screw carriers (9,747 of them). Some of them are general engineering drawing and technical work (over 28,500 require such drawings). The track also required 164,000 man-hours of general work (including general work, tracklaying and more than 9,000 filled sleepers) and nine million m<sup>3</sup> of concrete and 234,000 m<sup>3</sup> of fill. The four-million cubic meters of concrete used was 320 tons per square meter, 100 more than the previous year. If you want to get into the motorsport game of late, then I think it best if you do it right away - and do it using SCR performance bodysHELLS. I believe this was mentioned in one of the earlier posts. As for scale, I personally prefer 1:72 or 1:96 scale models, though I will probably get a slim 1:160 scale model of a real loco for display in my lounge as well. Its
