1080p .Q: Custom listview in gridview I'm using a custom listview in gridview, using a simple class extending from baseAdapter. The problem is that using a scrolling listview in a gridview seems to revert the scrolling even though I keep the gridview as tablelayout scrollable. Is there a way to keep the scrolling for the gridview? Thanks in advance A: Check this out: Scroll listview in a gridview Let me know if it works Q: Rails static page with div (admin area) and any other links I have a website and I want to make static pages under `"/admin"` directory. Is there a gem or a way to make a simple page like an about page with any links like this: About any ideas? A: Not sure if you're still having this issue, but if so, you can use an Erb file instead and render the page. If you want to do all of the work within the controller, you could just render the view within the controller. `class Api::ProfilesController 'index' # 'index.html.erb' or whatever` the default is end end And then on your about page

"about_index.html.erb" %> and you've still got access to the page level defaults for your erb file. Also, you can do something similar if you just want a bunch of but not actually do anything with them.

Q: Update profile with ActiveRecord when creating new record? I have this scenario: I have a User model (based on devise) I have a
